

Any Realtor® Who Offers A Full Refund Of His Commission Ought To Be Committed.

Bob Harder Is So Committed To Your Satisfaction, He Will Refund The Commission You Pay Him If You Are Not Satisfied With His Service.

Crazy. Out of his mind. Off his chump. A few sandwiches short of a picnic. That's what some people are saying about Bob Harder. Of course, they're all other real estate agents.

You see, most other agents can't fathom what Bob is doing. He is offering to give his commission back to any of his real estate clients who aren't completely satisfied with his work on their transaction. To most other real estate professionals, that can only mean one thing: Bob's gone 'round the bend. But to his clients it means something else. It means that Bob truly believes in the quality of his service, in his attention to detail and his ability to get the results her clients expect. It means he is committed to your satisfaction, and he's willing to put that commitment in writing. Is he crazy? Yeah, like a fox.

You'll have to go a long way to find another real estate professional who is as confident in his service as Bob Harder is. His many satisfied clients certainly agree. You know, maybe it's those other agents who should have their heads examined. Call him today for a copy of his 100% *Satisfaction GuaranteedSM offer.
